Sir:-

On settlement of the a/c of Annual Assay Coins and Bars it is found that the gold bar at 170 $\frac{253}{1000}$ ozs oz falls short of the sum needed $\frac{135}{1000}$ value $2.57

At the same time the silver bar is taken up as follows:

273 $\frac{85}{100}$ @ $1.16 $\frac{4}{11}$

56 $\frac{74}{100}$ @ $1.16 $\frac{4}{11}$

This leaves an excess in silver bar of 2.16 oz @ $1.16 $\frac{4}{11}$ = $2.57

Deficit of gold (as above) $\frac{135}{1000}$ = $2.57

This exactly adjusts the a/c. You can cut off the silver in excess viz: 2.16 oz and reimburse the Melter & Refiner for the loss in gold, namely: $\frac{135}{1000}$ — the value of the excess of silver being the exact value of the deficit in gold.

Respectfully Yours

My dear Mr. Mason:-

Replying to your favor of the 18th inst, I beg to say that the dies of the Assay Medal, of this year, were broken before we could make all of the medals desired. I am trying to have them patched up, and if possible will send you one.

Philadelphia, February 19th 1892.

Hon E.O. Leech.
Director of the Mint.

Sir; Your telegram relative to storage capacity of the Mint followed me out to my house this P.M., and what I write must be from memory, without getting exact figures. If I find in reaching the Mint in the morning, any great divergence, I will telegraph you. We have facilities in the Mint for storing 100,000,000 ounces of Silver bars - about 60,000,000 ounces are already stored so that we can find room for about 40,000,000 ozs additional. Besides we have space for about $50,000,000 Silver coin - about $35,000,000 is now stored, leaving room for about $20,000,000 more. In this storage we can find room for $200,000 Minor coins, and the gold on hand - say $30,000,000.

The new Mint ought to be supplied with at least three times as much storage capacity. To store the amount stated above cramps our Institution to an that space required for other purposes is so contracted as to seriously interfere with our work. Bringing cities back at the rate now provided by Law, will very soon close up all our storing facilities.

To secure the room we have, has obliged the lowering of many, indeed all, of our vaults in the basement by digging down, as far as compatable with safety - that is so as not to get below the foundations walls. We have besides been obliged to honey comb all available space in the ground about us - until the limit has been reached. When the present space is occupied, which as stated will, under existing laws, not be many months, where storage is to be secured will puzzle us. Occupying the room required has obliged many controvances for carrying on the work devolving upon the Institution. Rooms have had to be temporarily built on the roof, and the attic of the building has been called into Operation to keep on the work. For the proper carrying on the extremely valuable work of a Fleet on guard are exceedingly contracted and they are becoming more and so owing to the demands for room to store silver bars.

Major

Sir:-

I beg to assure you, in reply to yours of Feb. 18, inst. 15 that the coins returned to you on the 16th inst. were the very identical pieces received from you per your first letter of the 13th. My Chief Clerk having first examined the coins submitted them to our Mint Coin expert, who by the way first detected the strike mentioned a few years ago; the opinion of the Chief Clerk, and I may say my own opinion, was confirmed by the expert. As the Chief Clerk can be questioned to the fact that the coins never left his sight from the moment of their receipt to the moment of their enclosure for return to you, and that the coins were not changed while in this Mint.
I am at a loss to account for your apparent belief that the coins were exchanged here. If you will reflect a respect I think you will agree with me that there could be no question for an exchange of this point. We have hundreds of coins submitted for an opinion, and never before has the good faith of the management of the Mint been impugned. However, if you still doubt, your appeal should be to the Director of the Mint, Washington.

The clipped piece is not from the same die of that recorded opinions. Examine the Reverse of the "5" and you will see that both could not have been from the same die.

I return herewith the coins, and they are the same last received from your office.

Very Respectfully,

D. B. Easby Wells

Sir:-

Referring to your letter of Feb. 24th inst., further relating to certain 5 cent nickel pieces submitted to me for an opinion as to their genuineness, I beg to say that my former reply was not intended to be factious. Yet to suppose that the coin had been changed at this point was assuming that Jasper case was not appreciated in this office. I have no intention to further discuss the matter, and cheerfully allow any variance in a matter of opinion.

I can only say that the coins returned to you were the identical coins received. I do not pretend to know how they were exchanged, as that would be determined by yourself or the party to whom they were delivered by you

Ill. P.C. Nov. 25

In to the enquiries to which you allude, Mr. Cobb, my Chief Clerk, informs me that no marks, outside of coining marks, were looked for, or are now noted in ascertaining coins of doubtful genuineness, as it is no doubt can be done in this examination. There might be known as to without attracting attention. Mr. Cobb assures me that the coins were under his constant view from the time they arrived to the time of their enclosure was returned by mail.

Sir:-

Replying to your letter of Feb 27 inst. relative to seeming error in shipment of Silver coin of Oct. 12 1891, or in charge for transportation, I beg to say, that on referring to duplicate bill on file here, the amount shipped on that day was $1,575, and not $575.

I think the Cashier's clerk made away zero into the "7", causing the seeming error. At all events the item on duplicate bill appears correct.

On Comparing the figures in the Treasurer's Form of yesterday with my Book of original entry, I find that in transferring the amounts delivered (in the Cases cited) to the foot notes on my daily Statement, I have placed the figures one line above the proper one, & thereby agree with the Treasurer's account, which makes the Coinage as follows, viz

Act July 14, 1890 - $1,454,150.47.5.

I suppose I was not feeling well on those days, for the error is too simple to be excusable on any other ground. Please accept this as my apology for this mortification. I have acted thus.

Sir:-

Referring to your order for the suspension of minor coinage and the increase of Eagles and Half Eagles, I beg to say that the proper orders have been issued to the Coiner, and the coinage of small gold and of small silver will proceed as you request.

I respectfully suggest that as the minor coinage does not in any way interfere with gold coinage, the Coiner be allowed to finish up the "recoinage" metal before suspending. It is desirable that the Minor recoinage be closed out this quarter.

The press will coin all the Half Eagles the full force can adjust any day.

The balance remaining in silver recoinage is about $72,000 of recoinage silver is to go on another transfer will be required at once. There are not to expend two fair deliveries remaining upon which to draw.

Very Respectfully

D. H. Barbee

Superintendent.

"We are not receiving any more blanks (Mess Cries) from Petersburg, but have quite a stock, about three million ounces, on hand.

It would be desirable to have the old coinage struck before June 30th, and as our Assay Office is in no way interfered with the gold or silver coinage duties, I trust you will authorize it. We ought to have a stock of at least $150,000 in $5 & $10,000 in Cents on hand all the time.

Sir:

Referring to your letter (P) of March 9. inst. relative to Loss in gold bars ofmed from Denver No. 17, I beg to say that Mass No. 62 was found to be 786½ fine instead of 787½, the other bars ran under the stamped fineness but the latter was allowed.

But upon examination it is found that the value of the gold stated in the Denver invoice was $37,227.63, whereas by the stamped values it was but $37,207.10 a loss of $13.53, as is apparent. The loss by the difference in fineness of Mass No 62 was $8.01. The gain of silver was by fineness. The bars were short in weight .89.

I have derived these facts from the records of the Assayer and the Weigher, and believe them to be fully explanatory.

Sir:-

I return herewith Mr. Lotteys letter, referred to me for report and return to you, with the following explanation:

Upon conferring with Mr. McClure, Curator of Coins I can only say that there is no record to be found of the error mentioned, nor any record of a recall of such pieces. But such errors were frequent from the beginning down to 1856, and attracted little remark even among numismatists. The issue of Half cents in 1828 was dual, one kind having 12 stars, the other 13, and as many of one as of the other were coined.

Our 1833 Half Dollar has a perfectly smooth edge, and no lettering. In those days exactitude in the lettering department was unknown. There is nothing in our numismatic book relative to the occurrence in details of the coins struck in 1883, or in 1828. The coinage of Half Dollars in the former year was more than five millions.

The Felt & Tarrant Mfg Co. have strong testimonials from leading Bankers and well-known firms, as to the practical usefulness of the Machine in question, they also refer to several of the departments in Washington, who have purchased their instruments, among them, the "Signal Service Bureau", "U.S. Coast & Geodetic Survey", James L. McCoy, Actuary U.S. Treasury", "Bureau of Statistics, U.S. Treas."

I am unable to state the exact price without knowing the size of instrument required, but would say it probably will not be more than $200.

Sir:-

In rearranging a room for Mr. Barber's use in hardening dies, I would like very much to introduce gas annealing furnaces for that purpose. Mr. Barber has been experimenting with some of Riechheim's furnaces that are used in the S.S.White Dental manufacturing establishment in this city, for annealing, with great success. The cost would not exceed $1000 for the introduction of these furnaces and the expense of running them I do not think would be as great as it is at present with charcoal; whilst the advantages would be very much greater.

Trusting that you will authorize the introduction of these furnaces, I am,

Sir:-

Referring to the three inch medals of award desired to be manufactured for the Columbian Exposition, I find that a very grave mistake has been made in forwarding you the price. There were several different kinds of medals made for the Centennial Exposition and the prices furnished you were for memorial medals that were for the Centennial Board of Finance to be sold by them as one of the sources of revenue. The medals of award were a three inch medal and were I think, with the exception of some of an unusual size (four inches), manufactured by Mr. P. L. Krider of this city. The arrangement was made through Col. Snowden then Postmaster of Philadelphia, who was made the inspector of the medals before being delivered to the managers of the Exposition, and he was required to vise all of Mr. Krider's bills before they were paid. The price for these medals was $1.50 apiece, and that is the price that should be quoted to the Board of Managers of the Columbian Exposition. We received $5.00 apiece for the four inch bronze medals of award and $25.00 apiece for the four inch silver medals of award. In sending you the prices before I am sorry to say that the various medals manufactured confused us so that the information furnished you was incorrect.

Will you kindly inform Mr. Woodside, of the Committee on legislation from the Columbian Expositionmanagers, that the price of a three inch bronze medal of award would be $1.50 ?
The estimate here-to-fore given as to our capacity of manufacturing here referred to the memorial medals that were sold and not to the medals of award. I scarcely think that we ought to contract to make these medals of award as our capacity with the other medals required to be made here is limited. They had better be contracted for outside.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

Superintendent.

Referring to your despatch dated March 29, I have to say that it arrived about 8 P.M., same date, but the Superintendent had gone out of the city on Citizen's Committe to receive Mayor of Buffalo, M.C. and official party. He reached home at 1 A.M. to-day too ill to be on duty.

The telegram was handed me this A.M. on my arrival at the office. As at that time I pronounced on the arrival of the Superintendent I laid it on his table. Leaving from Oliver that his brother was ill, I had the information gotten and briefed, and my telegram gives you the gist of it.

Allow me to say that every one of these reasons were for ample cause. Not one ought ever to be employed in government service again. Drunkenness is becoming a gigantic evil in these public places, and [illegible] held in contempt by politicians. It is probably incompatible with political management. When men openly say that they do not come here to work, but to receive their reward, it is impossible to maintain efficient service.

Sir:

Further referring to the inquiry by yours of even date, to which I briefly responded, I have to offer in explanation of the difference between gold and silver of 1890, in bullion statement:

That unless a complete settlement could be made daily covering the business of the Mint, it would always be necessary to approximate the statement, while the bullion fund would, of course, remain intact. There has been no adjustment of balances since August 1890, until March 31, ultimo. On that day the relative between gold and silver in bullion fund were found to be disturbed to the extent of $37,97,2.95 — gold being too low, silver too high.

Thus, the report of the fifth inst. showed that the Checks drawn for Deposits were $38000 (as reported by over) but in the statement of that day it was not raised to that sum, owing to the necessity for adjusting the disturbed relations of the metals. Of course the Mint can return every dollar in the bullion fund at any moment, but owing to the nature of our transactions silver gets "low", or "high" and gold follows in the same course. The fund remains intact.

If by your inquiry you intended to touch upon the silver purchased under the Law of 1890, I can assure you that every ounce of such silver is either in our vaults, or accounted for, though the daily statement must be only an approximation.

Very Respectfully,

Superintendent.

Treasurer of U.S.

Sir:-

In reply to your (D.W.H.) favors of the 6th and 7th inst., and as a supplement to mine of the 6th inst; all referring to a distemper between Gold and Silver on the Statement of the Condition of the Bullion Fund for the 5th inst; I have to say, that after a careful revision of the daily statements of the Bullion Fund, from July 1. 1890. to March 31. 1892. I find that the difference of $37.972.95- the adjustment between Gold and Silver made on the Statement of the 5th inst. was mainly caused by an error made March 14th 1891. in carrying to Silver, the net value of a Transfer of uncurrent Gold Coin, received for recoinage - amounting to $32,173.95, which naturally made the Silver Bullion too high by that amount; compensating somewhat for the excess of Treasury Notes 1890, appearing on the Treasurer's statement of the 6th inst.

While great care is used in making the daily statement in question, as far as I am able to perceive, differences will arise between Gold and Silver, (particularly in Bullion) caused by payments for expenses of distribution, reimbursements for wastages and loss on sale of sweeps; the depositing in the Treasury of Parting, Refining, and Alloy Charges, and interchange of Coin in the Cashier's department; and to reiterate, it would require a complete settlement, with a closing of the accounts of the Mint, to give exactly the items of Bullion required on the daily statements sent you.

As you require me to report all the Gold and Silver Coins on hand, as being in the Bullion Fund, the reason for the approximations in Bullion is obvious.

Not knowing that the adjustments requiring to be made, cause any difficulty in making your accounts or statements, I regret that an explanation did not accompany the statement in question.

In the future I shall, at all appropriate occasions, endeavor to keep the adjustments to be made, as to prevent, as far as possible, any great disturbance arising; particularly in the item - "Silver Bullion Purchased."

Regretting the necessity that has occasioned the correspondence on the part of yourself, and with a hope, that a better understanding is arrived at between us, in reference to the subject in question, I am.

I am having prepared in response to Mr. Cannon's request to you of 14th inst, and your endorsement to me of the 15th inst, copies in bronze of all of the Grant Medals we have, and will forward them to Mr. Cannon as soos as they are prepared.

I am very sorry to say that the large medal press broke down Saturday and in order to get a number of medals through, in time to deliver when needed, it will be necessary for me to have them struck outside. I have made arrangements to do this this morning and have put the large press at once in hand for repairs. It will probably be two or three weeks before we get this press in order again.

The assistance of the Operative Officers is desired in preventing the use of intoxicants in the Mint. Some of the employees bring liquor into the building and use it on the premises. This must be stopped, and can be if the foremen of your various rooms exercise proper vigilance. Any one found transgressing in this respect will be summarily dismissed.

Your attention is respectfully directed to Section 15 of Article 29 of the Rules and Regulations, as follows:-

Section 15. Smoking, the use of intoxicating liquors, and beverages, and carrying or leaving friction matches in the clothes of workmen and others, shall not be allowed.

You will see that this rule is enforced. The clerks and employees in the General Department will observe its requirements.

Sir:

Referring to the order of Lieut. Buffington for 14 karat gold for badges, referred by you to this mint with instructions to prepare and forward the same to Ordnance Office, War Department, Washington, I have to say that, having conferred with Dr. Leidy, our Melter & Refiner, it is found impracticable to fill the order as specified at this Mint. We have no machinery for drawing wire, or for making round or half round rods, or for making hollow beads.

There is an evident error in the order for gold wire 4/0 spun inches in diameter.

We can prepare a 14k bar easily enough, and if you so desire we can engage the Jewelers Manufacturing Jeweler to do the work, and ship in the bill. I will thank you to indicate your wishes, and to have the order for wire rivets connected if the work is to be done under the orders of this Bureau.
